To relieve "sore throat" kill the germs

SORE throat is a germ infection. We "catch" sore throat by inhaling, literally, millions of vagrant germs. Simply dissolve in the mouth, Formamint, the throat tablet that actually kills germs. It checks and destroys germ life, relieves the soreness and prevents the development of serious infection. Pleasant, convenient, harmless, splendidly efficient. Use Formamint, right through the day whenever there is danger of infection.

GERM-KILLING THROAT TABLETS

Have you noted the glistening teeth you see everywhere today? And the open smiles that show them?

You can see that some great change has come in teeth-protecting methods. If you don't know what that change is, we urge you to make this test.

They combat the film

These people—millions of them—are now combating film. Film in that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It absorbs stains, then forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

These troubles have been constantly increasing. Beautiful teeth were less often seen than today. And all because no old-time tooth paste could effectively fight film.

The problem solved

Then dental science, after long research, found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists everywhere began to advise their use.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. Then these two great film combatants were embodied in it.

BACK FROM POLAND SILENT ON BOMBING

Detective Home Front Warsaw Reticent on 'Confession' in Wall Street Horror.

WENT AS FEDERAL AGENT

William Linde Arrested in Lodz at Request of American Operative.

Detective Sergeant Clinton W. Wood, former head of the industrial squad of the Police Department, who went to Warsaw in May for the Department of Justice to investigate the reported "confession" of Wolfe Lindenfeld, alias William Linde, and other clues in connection with the Wall Street explosion of September, 1929, returned yesterday on the Lithuania of the Baltic American Line, uncommunicative as to his work in Europe.

He said he could not discuss his investigation until he had made a report to his superiors. Rumors last night were that the Department of Justice is preparing to tighten its net for alleged suspects. Local representatives of the Department could not be reached for comment on this.

Wood went to Poland after the Police Department lent him to the Department of Justice because of his acquaintance with Linde, while the latter lived here a few years ago.

Linde was arrested in Lodz, December 15, 1921, by Polish secret service agents at the request of Sylvester Coville, an agent of the Department of Justice, for information which he was alleged to have given about a conspiracy in the Wall Street blast.

After his release on bail he was arrested in October on a charge of obtaining $900 from various persons for whom he promised to get American passports.

There is "nothing new" in the investigation of the Wall Street explosion which the Department of Justice is conducting, William J. Burns, director of the Bureau of Investigation, told The New York Herald just before boarding a train for Washington last night.

"I haven't talked with Sergeant Wood and didn't know he had returned until you told me," he added. "I probably shall hear from him in a few days."

Asked about a report that definite information has been obtained by the Department since the investigation in Russia and Poland he said:

"I can't talk about that. The report didn't come from me."

LABOR LEADER ATTACKS BRITISH FOREIGN POLICY

John R. Clynes Says the Idle Want Work, Not Doses.

LONDON, Nov. 30 (Associated Press).—John Robert Clynes, former Parliamentary labor leader, raised the question of unemployment in the House of Commons in an attack on foreign policy as being largely responsible for the poor commercial and industrial situation. He declared what the idle wanted was work, not doses, and advocated a general scheme of house building.

The debate showed that the Government had no new remedies and that it relies mainly on the proposals of the previous Government, which include the building and improving of roads and similar public services, as well as inducing railway companies to hasten work upon extension. In none of these projects, however, was any Government assistance foreshadowed.

OFFICER AND WOMAN DASH OFF NAVY DOCK IN TAXICAB

Chauffeur Drives Through Chain at Brooklyn Yard, but Nobody Is Hurt—Another Car Plunges 45 Feet Over Forty-second St. Abutment; Driver Is Dying.

A taxicab chauffeur, who did not know his way about the New York Navy Yard in Brooklyn, drove his machine in which a naval officer and a woman were passengers, off dock No. 3, opposite Carlton avenue, which ends at the navy yard fence. The taxicab, which was a 1929 model, was wrecked, but the passengers were not hurt. The chauffeur is said to have received a slight cut on one of his hands, which was treated at the Navy Yard Hospital. Capt. Todd, in command at the Navy Yard last night, said that the taxicab entered the yard at about 9:30 and proceeded to Dock No. 3, near which the cruiser Rochester is moored. There was no water under the dock, and a chain was stretched across the end to keep back vehicles. The taxicab, however, plunged through the chain and off the dock. It was reported that the male passenger was named Bartlett, but Capt. Todd said he did not know the man and that there was no one named Bartlett at the yard. It was learned, however, that an Ensign Bartlett is flag officer of the Rochester.

An accident somewhat similar occurred early yesterday morning when a touring car plunged over the abutment at the east end of Forty-second street and landed in First avenue, forty-five feet below. The chauffeur, James Williamson, of 656 East Sixteenth street, was thrown from the machine and received a compound fracture of the skull and internal injuries which are expected to cause his death. He was sent to Bellevue Hospital. According to the police the license plate on the machine had been issued for another car, and Williamson has not recovered sufficiently to tell how the accident occurred. Marks on the street indicated that Williamson had applied his brakes fifty feet before the abutment was reached, but the machine appeared to have been going fast and crashed through the railing. The only damage done to the car, however, was a punctured gas tank and twisted fenders. It landed right side up.

Cleveland Man Is Charged With Shooting Policemen.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30.—On information from Columbus police, Chief of Police Graul and detectives to-day raided a house in the East End and took Frank Willis, 28 years old, of Cleveland, into custody on suspicion of being the fourth member of the bandit gang that killed one policeman and wounded another in Columbus Tuesday.

A house to house canvass of the district located Willis in an apartment house. Neighbors said he was absent from the flat from Monday night until yesterday morning. The two Columbus detectives are on their way to Cleveland to charge Willis with first degree murder.

HARLEM CROWD TRIES TO LYNCH CHAUFFEUR

Attacks Policeman After Negro Is Run Down.

Reserves of the West 158th street station were called to 141st street and Fifth avenue last night to help Patrolman Daniel Mandell protect his prisoner, Ralph Rosenfeld, a taxidriver of 849 Eagle avenue, The Bronx, from being lynched. A crowd accused Rosenfeld of trying to escape after Nathaniel Matthews, 29, a negro of 109 West Eighty-eighth street, was run down by a taxicab. Matthews was crossing Lenox avenue near 158th street when he was struck by a taxicab. The chauffeur did not stop, but raced north in Lenox avenue. Mandell, off duty and riding in his own automobile, saw the accident and gave chase. It led to 141st street and Fifth avenue, where Rosenfeld and his taxi were found in a garage. Mandell arrested Rosenfeld, but a crowd refused to let him go. Two negroes, friends of Matthews, urged the crowd, the majority of whom were negroes, to take the law into their own hands and Mandell was rapidly getting the worst of it when patrolmen from nearby beats and later the reserves arrived.

MRS. RAIZEN IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Lillian Raizen, slayer of Dr. Abraham Glikenstein, whose sanity was to be determined this week before Judge Martin in Brooklyn, was taken from the Raymond street jail last night to Correctional hospital, Welfare Island, suffering from tonsillitis and influenza.

JAMES R. MANN, 65, DIES IN WASHINGTON

Lustania, that something more serious than has happened should happen before the United States should permit itself to be drawn into the European war. In 1926 Mr. Mann put through Congress a resolution which authorized him to appoint a committee of five to inquire into the supply and production of pulp wood, wood pulp and other articles entering into the manufacture of print paper. At that time it was alleged that the print paper industry was controlled by a combination. In 1927 the Illinois Representative received praise from all quarters of the country when he suggested to the Secretary of the Treasury that an authorization to purchase a site for a branch post office in his own district be held up until times were better. He also received considerable criticism for making the suggestion, the criticism coming from Congressmen who were interested in pork barrel legislation.

As chairman of the Suffrage Committee, Mr. Mann introduced the woman suffrage resolution in the House. Representative Mann had not been a healthy man for several years. In 1927 he was confined to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore for some time, suffering from neuritis.

BROWN STUDENT KILLED AS CRASH ENDS CAR RIDE

Two Others and Three Girls Hurt After Dance.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 30.—E. John Decker, 23, of LaGrange, Me., a Brown University sophomore, was instantly killed and Miss Nadine DeWitt, 22, of Millinocket, Me., a student at the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston, was probably fatally injured when the automobile they were riding in with two other students crashed early this morning in East Providence.

George R. Decker, 21, a senior at Brown, brother of the dead youth and the driver of the car; Robert H. Spellman, 21, another Brown senior and a member of the varsity football squad; Miss Irene Coy, 17, of Hingham street, Boston, and Miss Lucille Burroughs of Warren, Mass., both classmates of Miss DeWitt at the New England Conservatory of Music, escaped with slight cuts and bruises.

Miss DeWitt is in the Rhode Island Hospital here with a probable fracture of the skull. George Decker and Miss Burroughs are also in the hospital. The ride followed a dance at the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity House.

RESCUED, THEN ARRESTED.

Young Man Accused of Speeding After He and Girl Escaped.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD
STAMFORD, Nov. 30.—Miss Edna Sturges, 21, and Elbert V. Brinkerhoff, 27, were severely injured early this morning when an automobile in which they were riding turned over in Hop street after hitting a curbstone. The automobile caught fire but nearby residents dragged out Miss Sturges and Brinkerhoff and probably saved their lives. Then Brinkerhoff was arrested for speeding.

Colonial Times—and Now

During Colonial times there was a great scarcity of money backed by gold and silver—in fact, the only gold and silver money available was represented by the small quantity brought to America by settlers.

And inasmuch as imports exceeded exports in the early days, practically all of the money that found its way to the New World soon returned to the Old World, so it was necessary for the Colonists to use substitutes.

Among the various things used for money were wampum (colored beads made out of shells by the Indians), beaver skins, musket balls, dried fish, corn, rye, barley, peas and tobacco.

Today the United States has the greatest monetary system in the World, with its Treasury vaults bulging with gold and silver to back whatever form of money is issued.

Today we have a Federal Reserve System that virtually brings to every banking center in the United States, when needed, the support that may be necessary to forestall such panics as occurred in 1907, 1893, 1884, 1873, 1859 and 1837.

In 1837 there occurred the worst financial panic in the history of America up to that time, and for years thereafter banking was in a state of chaos because uniform methods and proper regulation did not prevail.

Notwithstanding the chaotic conditions created by the panic of 1837, The American Exchange National Bank was organized in 1838, and because of the employment of sound and conservative banking principles it has for 84 years been a constructive factor in helping to build up the country through devoting its increasing resources and experience to legitimate business enterprise.

AUTOMOBILES KILL TWO MEN AND A BOY

Janitor Said to Have Won Suit for $50,000 Legacy Hit on Upper East Side.

THREE DRIVERS SEIZED

Joseph Stewart, 4, Run Down While Crossing Forty-eighth Street With Brother.

A four-year-old boy and two men were killed in automobile accidents in New York city last night and many other persons were injured. A third man was seriously hurt in Bayonne when the touring car in which he was riding struck a truck. Another died in Greenville Hospital in Jersey City as a result of injuries received in an accident there Wednesday night.

Charles Warren, 65, a janitor's helper, of 614 East 148th street, The Bronx, who was said to be about to get a legacy of $50,000, received fatal injuries when struck by an automobile at Seventy-fifth and Exterior streets. The driver was Don Ebner of 540 East Eighty-fourth street, who was arrested on four charges, including technical homicide and driving while intoxicated.

Warren's employer, Mrs. Mary Sell-house, at the Bronx address, told police of this fight for the $50,000 which reached success on Wednesday after fifty years litigation. She said he had sued Henry Stevens of Hoboken, a cousin, and had settled.

Patrolman Harry Ebin, who arrested Ebner, alleged that he did not stop after running Warren down. Ebin commanded an automobile and followed Ebner up Exterior street, stopping him at Eighty-fifth street.

The boy who was killed was Joseph Stewart, son of William Stewart of 60 West Forty-eighth street. He was crossing Forty-eighth street with his brother, William, 16, when he was hit by a truck driven by James W. Dorry and owned by the Polar Products Company of 11 West Forty-eighth street.

Dorry kept on, but returned when boys yelled to him that he had killed some one. He was arrested on a technical charge of homicide. William Stewart told the police that he tried to pull his brother back from the truck, but lost his hold on the younger boy's hand.

Jeremiah Coleman, a laborer, died in Beekman Street Hospital as a result of injuries received early yesterday when he was run down by an automobile at Oak and New Chambers street. The machine was operated by Jacob Pelts of 35 Pitt street, who was arrested.

The man injured in Bayonne, who is expected to die, is Salvatore Telemonte of 143 West Thirtieth street, Bayonne. He has a fractured skull and a broken jaw.

James Williamson of 658 East Sixteenth street, received a compound fracture of the skull and internal injuries soon after midnight Wednesday when he drove his automobile over the abutment at the east end of Forty-second street into First avenue, forty-five feet below.

What You Expect of Your Bank

"Safety, dependability, permanence, willingness and ability to serve, diversified service graciously administered, encouragement when needed, advice when asked, vision enough to co-operate, and faith in all branches of American business—these are a few of the things expected of the banker," so some one has said.

We aim to fulfill these requirements for the clients of our Banking Department and believe that we do. We are anxious to secure many more depositors of the right sort, especially those interested in real estate and mortgage investments.

We think we can be of real service to you.
